BOY KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE.
 Eleven Year Old Frank Anderson Was Hit in Thames Street.

Frank Anderson, 11 year old son of William P. Anderson, colored, who lives at No. 183 High street, was knocked down by an automobile in Thames street, near Thames street bridge, Wednesday afternoon about 7 o'clock and badly hurt. When first picked up he was unconscious.

The machine which struck him was reported to have the number 11510, which according to the state register is that of Alfred Hallett, manager of the Mohican store in New London.

The boy was taken into a store on Thames street and attended by Dr. J. W. Callahan, who happened to be coming along in his automobile after the other machine.

The driver of the machine that struck the boy took him to his home and offered to take him to the hospital, but the family did not want him taken away. The boy had a bad gash over his eye and was suffering from shock.

According to what was said at the Anderson house, he was helping another boy move and was carrying a bed spring across the street when he was struck. According to another report, he was struck when he dropped off the back of a wagon on which he was stealing a ride. His injuries are not considered serious.

The caretaker at Fort Griswold, John Wessell, is keeping untidy visitors from the fort grounds. Mr. Wessell has decided that no one shall make a picnic ground of the historic spot.

Sore Bunions, Quick Cure

Also All Kinds Sore Feet
 Dissolve two table-spoonsful of Calceide compound in a basin of warm water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts with the fingers. The inflammation is drawn out instantly and the foot returns to normal size. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off and will stay off. Sore, tender feet and smelly, sweaty feet need but a few treatments. A twenty-five cent package of Calceide is sent by mail to the worst feet in the condition. Calceide is the finger pointed only to doctors use. Any drug-gist has it in stock or will get it from his wholesale house. It will prove a welcome item to persons who suffer from foot troubles with individual letters and foot powders. Calceide prepared only by Medical Formula Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

SETTLEMENT REACHED IN SUIT BY ADMINISTRATOR

In Estate of T. W. Yerrington, Formerly of this City.

The superior court here on Wednesday with Judge Norton A. Shumway presiding, the morning was occupied with the trial of the case of Patrick T. Connell, administrator, vs. Elizabeth L. Whitford of South Canterbury. She was housekeeper for the late Theodore W. Yerrington for many years and Mr. Connell is administrator of Mr. Yerrington's estate. The administrator was suing for $500 on the claim that Miss Whitford refused to surrender to him certain articles of personal property which he claimed as part of the estate. They included a horse, four cows, a wagon and other things. Miss Whitford came into possession of the farm by a deed from him. Mr. Yerrington formerly lived in this city and died in 1904, a few years of his life on a farm in Canterbury.

The jury chosen for the trial was Ashley T. Bown, Norwich; Frank H. Palmer, George A. Pendleton, Preston; William H. Blacked, William E. Adams, Colchester; William J. McGraw, Fred O. Brown, Lebanon; Thurman P. Main, James F. Brown, North Stonington; James W. Huntington, Franklin; John G. Sprague, Sprague; James H. Purcell, Salem.

Administrator Connell, who is son-in-law of Mr. Yerrington, was represented by Attorney Whittford and was represented by A. M. Brown. Mr. Connell was the first witness. He was followed by Nathan G. Gray, who testified to the value of the livestock and by Mrs. Ann H. Connell and Mrs. Mary R. Lyons, two daughters of Mr. Yerrington, who testified for time to confer. This was granted and it was announced that the case had been settled. It was reported in court that Miss Whitford agreed to pay the administrator $175.

Sues for $10,000.

When court came in after the noon recess a jury was selected for the trial of the case of MacDougall vs. T. A. Scott company of New London.

The suit is brought for the statutory sum of $10,000. In the complaint John J. MacDougall, who is administrator of the estate of the late John A. MacDougall of New London charges that through the negligence of employees of the defendant company, John A. MacDougall was instantly killed while working for the company at Hay Harbor, Fishers Island, as a ship carpenter on the 11th of April, 1912.

The Scott company was repairing a wharf there and Mr. MacDougall was engaged in sorting spiles which were being hoisted from the lighter known as "Tender" to the lighter known as "Eva" during which one of the spiles dropped and struck and killed Mr. MacDougall.

Attorneys Avery and Burrows represent the plaintiff and Attorneys C. V. James and A. M. Brown appear for the defendant.

Witnesses who described how a spile broke away while it was being hoisted and hit Mr. MacDougall were Herbert Hutchins, James Lake, who was hoisting on, and Thorn Mortensen, who was engineer of the hoisting engine. The last named did not see the spile hit him.

Capt. William A. White of New London, who was form on the lighter "Tender" at the time of the accident, testified to the crew that worked on the lighter. He said he had known Mr. MacDougall for six years and that he was his best friend.

The jury in the case consists of Frank H. Palmer, Preston; William H. Blacked, William E. Adams, Colchester; William J. McGraw, Lebanon; Thurman P. Main, James F. Brown, North Stonington; James W. Huntington, Franklin; Louis St. Onge, Benjamin S. Galling, Sprague; Charles Budett, Lisbon; John H. Purcell, Salem; Leonard B. Kinnie, Voluntown.

Court adjourned at 4:30 till the next morning at 10 o'clock.

BIRTHDAY SUPPER FOR BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Church Improvement Society 21 Years Old—Tables for Each Month Had Distinctive Menus.

The Church Improvement society of the Second Congregational church observed its 21st birthday anniversary last night by a supper and program in the church parlors Wednesday evening. The supper was served at 5:30. There were 12 birthday tables, one for each month in the year and those who partook of the delicious menu took seats at the tables representing the month in which their birthdays fell.

The floral decorations which were furnished by Geduldig were in keeping with the months represented by the tables.

During the social hour at 7:45 o'clock Miss Amy Cogswell gave a most interesting talk on the History of English gardens. Miss Cogswell said we sometimes forget that England was once wild and gardenless. The first gardens planted in England as far as known was during the Roman occupation.

The Romans left the country about the year 410. Three hundred years later the Romans returned and practically wiped out and the beautiful gardens were ruined. With the coming of the Anglo-Saxons who were a primitive and war-like race, all that was left of the Roman gardens was destroyed. The next gardens were planted by the monks who were sent to England to convert the Anglo-Saxons. This was about the last of the 6th century. The monks planted orchards, vineyards and pleasure gardens all arranged orderly and dregularly. The vegetable gardens were very important to the monks as they were vegetarians. During the Danish invasion the monks suffered and the gardens were laid waste.

Later the gardens were replanted and gradually grew in beauty and size. These medieval gardens were the outgrowth of the Roman occupation. They were at first very simple, generally green walks and trees surrounding the stone castles. These simple terraces gradually grew more and more elaborate. In the days of the Crusades the English crept in to the English gardens. The gardens were protected by high walls and hedges. They were at their highest point of beauty in the time of the Stewart period. From this time the hedges and walls gradually fell into decay and the gardens waned in beauty. Many of the beautiful English flowers were brought over to this country by the early settlers.

Miss Cogswell concluded her talk by speaking of the original homes of the flowers found in our gardens. She said he did not propose to say anything against the present man in office if he could, but he thought that a one man power was a bad thing and it was time now for the republic
